Mr. and Mrs. Phil McDougall's little daughter, who has been very sick with inflamation of the bowels, is very much improved in health.

During the storm Friday afternoon I. Berman attempted to raise his awning but to no avail, the heavy wind tearing it to shreds.

John Tomlin moved into his new store near the station last week. John is a stirring and enterprising young man and deserves to prosper.

The complete novel in Lippincott's for July will be "At Anchor," by Miss Julia Magruder, whose novel "Across the Chasm" won her an enviable reputation.

Among the many improvements Thos. Rapley has added to his hotel this year, the latest is a new kitchen, which will make it more convenient than before.

Wm. Vancamp has purchased the machinery and is now looking for a site to erect a suitable building for a furniture factory. Still they come and more enterprises to follow.

Don't forget Michaels' ball on the evening of July 4th. There will be dancing in the hall all day. You will miss a great treat if you fail to attend. Come and hear the golden harp.

Miss C. Boice is busily engaged this week moving into the Hart building lately vacated by John Tomlin. Everything will be in readiness to receive customers by Saturday this week.

Geo. Gill's house in Greenwood was burned to the ground on Friday last about 3 o'clock together with its contents. He meets with a heavy loss and carried but a small insurance. We are sorry to learn of his misfortune.

Salvation Oil always cures pain. It should be the companion of every traveling man. It extinguishes pain, whether resulting from a cut, a burn, a bruise or a sprain. Get only the genuine. Price twenty-five cents per bottle.

A terrible wind storm passed through here on Friday last uprooting trees and doing other damage. The barn on Geo. Lincoln's place was blown down—the sand on Main street stirred up and it looked at one time as though our little village would be carried away.

Everybody remember C. F. Michaels' fourth of July ball and don't make a mistake in where you go, for you can as well go to a first-class ball where you can have the best of music in attendance and everything else in proportion. Remember the Fourth only comes once a year.

A country editor who expects to please everyone is entitled to all the sympathy he can find lying around loose for he is sure to encounter a terrible disappointment that will wreck his young life. An editor to please everyone must be a strange composition of opposites. He must write sarcastic articles, and he must not; he should give all the news and suppress half of it; he must belong to all the churches and board at all the boarding houses; get shaved at all the barber shops and publish everything everybody wants free, and never ask a man for his subscription.

The flax mill building is still moving on with vigor. This with the roller mill enterprise, will not only furnish a market for our farmers grain and flax but will give steady employment to those farmer boys who would otherwise have to go to the woods or remain at home in idleness. Not only will it profit them in this respect but will build up their market place. Our village will begin to boom and increase in value which will also enchance the value of surrounding farm property. Brockway Centre is now having a healthy growth and let us do all we can to give it still more life and vigor.

John Fisher is carrying his hand in a sling.

Are you coming to Brockway Centre on the Fourth?

The organ grinder and monkey were in town Monday.

Miss Nettie Bell visited Mrs. Paldi in Port Huron last week.

Two men with a picalo and bag-pipe were in the village Monday.

J. B. Francis visited among old time friends in Canada last week.

Miss Kittie A. Carroll was in Port Huron Monday, purchasing goods.

No one should miss the grand celebration at Brockway Centre this year.

Mrs. J. F. Brown, of Leonard, was the guest of Mrs. Eva Jones the past week.

Simcoe Lutz, while chopping wood, had the misfortune to cut his thumb badly.

Street Commissioner Gillam has commenced work on the streets of the village.

O. W. Mills has bought back his old place north of the railroad from M. T. Buchanan.

The brick work on the school house is being pushed, and will be completed in a short time.

Rev. L. Clark returned to Saginaw Wednesday morning after visiting his children in this place.

Our village council has appointed Frank Gillam as marshal in place of Joel Smades, resigned.

Village taxes are now on deck. The marshal will call on you soon to relieve you of what small change you have.

Mrs. H. H. Holden and family, of North Branch, are visiting Jas. Hisey and other friends in the village at present.

Mrs. Mary White has our thanks for a nice bouquet of flowers in which was five white peonies all growing from one stalk.

The grandest event in the history of Brockway Centre will be witnessed on the Fourth of July. Come all and enjoy yourselves.

New subscribers are being added to the EXPOSITOR list and old ones renewing every day. Let every one come in and join this procession.

W. Hartway and Chas. Fillmore, of Brockway Centre, have been visiting friends south of this village.—Armada cor. in the Utica Sentinel.

Our local buyers inform us that about 60,000 pounds of wool has been bought at this point this season. The price ranged from 15 to 34cts.

Editor Bussell of the Romeo Hydrant is the parental relative of a young typo, and it is not weaned yet either. Clyde is the proudest man in Romeo.

D. M. Church has repainted and refurnished the Railroad House in first-class style and named it the American House. He invites all his old friends to give him a call and they may expect in the future as in the past to receive cordial treatment.

H. H. Holden, of North Branch, was here this week and put the large plate glass into the bank building and C. H. Niggeman's part. The glass for Holden Bros. store has not yet arrived. Harry made the trip from North Branch to this place on a bycicle.

The woolen mills have commenced operations again this season and are prepared to do custom carding and spinning as cheap as can be done anywhere. Give them a trial if you have any wool to be made into cloths, flannels, blankets, yarns, etc.

The largest strawberries we have seen this season were brought to this office by Palmer Chamberlain, the product of his own garden. They are sweet and rich and of the Sharpless variety. Some of them measure five inches around. We are thankful to Mr. Chamberlain for the same.

A strawberry festival will be given in the M. P. church, on Thursday evening, June 30, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society, for the benefit of Rev. J. M. Crandall. Plenty of strawberries will be secured and all may expect a pleasant time. Admission 20 cents; per couple 30 cents. All are invited to be present.

The "Centre Star Roller Mill" is the name of our new flouring mill, and is represented by a blazing red star in the centre of five small stars. This makes a very appropriate brand. S. O. Welch & Son have already received many compliments in regard to the flour turned out in their mill, which is encouraging and we bespeak for them unbounded success. They are men of energy and business abilities and deserve to prosper.

DEATHS.

MURRAY—After a long illness, at her home in Melvin, on Friday, June 17, 1887, Aggie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Murray, aged 19 years. Her remains were interred in the Speaker cemetery, on Sunday, June 19, Rev. DeLong officiating.

COCHRANE—Tuesday, 14 inst., at the home of his parents, in Almont, Alex Cochrane, aged 25. Deceased was the fifth son of Wm. Cochrane and wife, and brother to D. & A. Cochrane. Less than a year ago he buried his wife, who died of consumption, and is thought he contracted the disease while giving her care.
